

International Space Station Pays Kraftwurx a Visit

Posted by Marco CM - 2013/04/02 17:45

Hello all, today we are proud to say Kraftwurx.com was visited by the crew of the International Space Station (ISS). That's right folks, real-life astronauts think Kraftwurx is cool beans. We are excited they have decided to visit our website while flying through space at close to 1800 mph, but we hope they understand delivery charges to space are going to be sky high! Check out the pic below.
